Notes

- 1) “Pre-1907” really means Pre-1 October 1907. The records from this time period are known to be quite incomplete. Not all vital events were recorded with the appropriate county; not all records of events recorded with a county were forwarded to the state.
- 2) The “Pre-1907” microfiche index sets and death index microfiche sets for the period 1959-1979 (except 1968) are available for onsite searching at the Wisconsin Historical Society library and numerous other locations
- 3) The “Pre-1907” microfiche index sets were scanned to produce the data available on <ancestry.com>
- 4) The “Pre-1907” microfiche index sets were scanned to create the starting point for the index data available on the Wisconsin Historical Society website; index data for Price and those counties alphabetically between Richland and Wood were added to the WHS online marriage index. Volunteers and WHS staff are continuing to work to improve the accuracy of the WHS indexes by examining the microfilmed records
- 5) The 1973-78 and 1979-1997 marriage indexes are available at <ancestry.com> (by subscription). Their description is: “This database is an index to approximately 949,000 marriages that took place in the State of Wisconsin, USA, between 1973 and 1997. Information that may be found in this database includes groom's name, groom's age, groom's residence (county and/or state), bride's name, bride's age, bride's residence (county and/or state), marriage date, marriage county, and marriage certificate number.”

- 6) The birth indexes are incomplete. The Wisconsin Vital Records Office website contains the following statement: “According to Chapter 69, Wisconsin Statutes, the following kinds of birth certificates cannot be issued in uncertified format: A child born to unmarried parents when paternity has not been established, or a child born to unmarried parents when paternity was established by court order.” This restriction applies to only births which occurred after 30 September 1907. Such records are not only unavailable to other than immediate family, but also excluded from the indexes. For the purpose of interpreting this restriction, parents married at any time during the pregnancy are considered to be married.
